DIRECTOR'S NOTE

Clare Barron's words have been following me ever since I had the incredible opportunity to see this play in 2018. Her truthful, vulnerable, raw, and ferocious way of communicating the unique and terrifying experience of growing up never ceases to inspire me. I hope that this play will give you some of the strength and courage it has given me. I am so thankful to Downstage for being so eager to make my dream of directing this show a reality. I am equally as thankful for this cast and production team for coming in every day excited and ready to make meaningful and joyful work. I hope we can share a little bit of what we have learned and loved with you. Thank you and enjoy the show!
